Course Overview

This course is intended to provide an introduction to basic theory and research regarding attitudes. The focus will be on the bases of attitudes, how they are represented in memory, the functional value that they serve and the consequences that they have for information processing, judgment, and behavior.

Course Textbook

This book of readings is a collection of classic and contemporary journal articles from the social psychological literature on attitudes. It also includes valuable ancillary material introducing each major topic area.

Additional readings have been posted on the course’s Carmen website. All of these are excerpts from: Maio, G. R., & Haddock, G. (2010). The Psychology of Attitudes and Attitude Change. Los Angeles: Sage.

Course Requirements

Readings are assigned for each class meeting, and are to be read prior to the class with which they are associated. Each day’s readings consist of articles from the Fazio & Petty reader and/or reprints posted on Carmen.

Grades will be based on three equally-weighted exams, each consisting of multiple choice, brief identification, and short essay questions.

1. Exam #1, covering the first third of the course, will be administered during class on September 24.
2. Exam #2, covering the next third, will be administered during class on October 29. Although the focus will be on the second third of the course, students will be expected to be able to integrate these topics with the material that was covered earlier.
3. Exam #3 will be administered during finals week. According to the Registrar's final exam schedule, the exam is scheduled for December 10, 2:00 - 3:45. Again, the focus will be on the material covered since the previous exam, but students will be expected to integrate these topics with the earlier material.
Academic Misconduct

All students at the Ohio State University are bound by the Code of Student Conduct (see http://oaa.ohio-state.edu/coam/code.html). Suspected violations of the code in this class will be dealt with according to the procedures detailed in that code. Specifically, any alleged cases of misconduct will be referred to the Committee on Academic Misconduct.

Students with disabilities

This syllabus is available in alternative formats upon request. In addition, if you may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability, you should contact the instructor immediately. Students with special needs should contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS) at 292-3307 for certification if they have not already done so. Upon such certification, the ODS and the instructor will make every effort to accommodate special needs. However, to ensure that evaluation of student performance in the course is conducted in a manner that is fair to all students, special accommodations will not be granted in the absence of ODS certification.
